Executive Proclamation
Office of the Governor

Whereas, Redfield, the county seat of Spink County, is a progressive business community which relies on a diverse industrial base, agriculture, quality health care and a wide variety of retail businesses; and,

Whereas, Redfield was the first place where the Chinese Ringneck Pheasant was successfully released in 1908 making it known as the Pheasant Capital of the World; and,

Whereas, Redfield continues to prove itself as a thriving community that sets its vision to an even more prosperous tomorrow; and,

Whereas, Redfield encourages tourism and recreation through destinations at Fisher Grove State Park, the historical Chicago and Northwestern Depot and notorious hunting; and,

Whereas, Now, state government is going on the road to the people of Redfield and the surrounding area in a unique program called "Capital for a Day;" and,

Whereas, "Capital for a Day" is designed to provide a local forum whereby an exchange of ideas, information, and concerns among the governor, cabinet officials, representatives for the private business sector, local elected officials, special interest groups and the general public can occur:

Now, Therefore, I, M. Michael Rounds, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim April 25, 2007, as in South Dakota.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-fourth Day of April in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Seven.

M. Michael Rounds, Governor

Attest:

Chris Nelson, Secretary of State
